Abstract:

In this article, the influence of Mercury and Saturn in the horoscopes of printing industry has been studied using traditional astrological methods. Writing, one of Mercury's professions, is the basis for printing. One of Saturn's industries is the printing industry, and this research paper was created with these.

Key Words: Mercury and Saturn, Lagna and 10th House

Introduction:

All self-employed people will always have a doubt. Will the business we are going to do suit us! Will this business earn us income! What will be the future of this! There are many different thoughts. Can you find any reasons for it through astrology! Any research paper is based on the idea that. In this the business I took was the printing press. Whichever planet is strong in the horoscope, he can excel in the printing industry. When I tried to find answers to the questions that the livelihood will be good through this study, I came to know that Mercury and Saturn are the source of this printing industry. This is why I did this research. Some rules were made for that, and when those rules were quoted for study by the people holding the press, it was found that the influence of the planets Mercury and Saturn was high.

Primary Astrological Rules for Self-Employment:

Rule Number 1:

It is very good to do combined occupations based on the Karaka assigned to the Lagna Lord and the Tenth Bhava Lord. Because most of the horoscopes are satisfied with the work in which soul (Lagna) and labor (10th house) are combined. In general, losses are very low in industries that are characterized by this nature. There are very few losers even if malefic dasha occurs. Lean muscle gains are less likely. So if businesses are based on this rule, printers can be said to be very lucky. If you take a hundred castes working under this system, the percentage of failure will not be more than 33 percent.

Rule Number 2:

They will do the business of Lagna lord. These people do not get much fame in the profession they do because they are engaged in morally driven professions. But only the name will be understood based on the profession they are doing. For example grocery store would be Nadar, oil shop would be Chetyar. The name businessman does not occur often. They have been doing some of their paternal work or clan work. Even though the profession is not very popular, many people are doing the profession caused by Lagna lord as they get income for basic necessities. There is a possibility of loss in business done under this rule during bad dasa buddhi periods. 50 percent of devices in this category are economically below the middle level, fate is the segment where the industry is located.

Rule Number 3:

10th lord is career. Businesses based on this rule are appropriate to the philosophy of doing duty and not expecting results. Various horoscopes are doing their business on this basis. In fact, it is not a profession that one's soul desires and works wholeheartedly. They act with the idea that it is my duty to do this work. As far as gains and losses are concerned, they are experienced based on Dasa Bhukti. Accepting profits and losses, willing or not, they will do their business with full attention. There will be longing that we could not reach a good state.

Rule Number 4:

The Rasi in the 10th lord navamsa is the business lord. The professions done based on this rule are well known to outsiders and the benefactor will also be doing the corresponding professions. But there will be a situation where the business cannot be maintained for a long time. He will do business for a certain period of time and try for a business based on rule one. Or the planets in his horoscope will carry that position. Therefore Navamsa-dominated profession is profitable to the doer but not in union with the complete soul. If the Dasa Buddhi is changeable, there will be a change in profession. Therefore, the business based on this rule will not give complete satisfaction. There will be a change in profession during good Dasa periods. Profits and losses will continue to arise on the basis of the bhava of Dasa Buddhi.

Rule Number 5:

If there is any zodiac sign in the lord of the 10th house, it is a business for that person. The work done based on this rule is not a work done with full soul involvement, but a work done for the purpose of living in life. However, they will accept profit and loss based on the dasa that is taking place, Buddhi. If the benefic has an occupation based on the rule, he will do well in the occupation of this rule if he carries out any occupation based on one or the second rule. However, all the problems arising in the industries based on this should be faced and conducted. There is no dearth of profits and losses, and he does his business with ups and downs every day. If Dasa, Buddhi is good, he will earn some profit. If an evil person is the leader, he will suffer only loss.

Rule Number 6:

The occupation of the planets in the 10th house. Businesses created under this rule are not permanent. Because the planets in the 10th house show the benefits based on their karaka qualities in the profession of the benefic. Example 10th in a prosaic would cause career prestige value reputation leadership system. On the other hand, the sun should not perform the functions of alkalis. If the sun does so with said karaka then it is not permanent. There is no possibility of additional profit or full return of the business if such a system is in operation. So the business done under this rule will not give very good results. Good and bad results keep manifesting for Dasa Buddhi.

Rule Number 7:

The 10th lord is the career of the nakshatra lord standing. In some horoscopes they are doing their business based on this rule. It goes without saying that these are the professions that make a very good name and good reputation. In this industry, the Dasha will keep giving good and bad results based on Buddhi. It is hers that keeps thinking of change, even if it gives satisfaction to the mind for a business that operates in impermanence.

Rule Number 8:

Vimsottari Dasha is a business based on intellect. Businesses operating on the basis of this rule will continue to give good and bad results, profits and losses according to the sin in the Dasa Buddhi. After completion of their Dasa Buddhi, they will change their career to suit the next Dasa Buddhi or if their Dasa, Buddhi is given to Lagna, Tenth Bhava, which is highly benefic, they will establish a permanent career and stop their respective careers. So vimchotari dasha, intellect based occupations are not permanent.

Rule Number 9:

The planet aspecting the 10th Bhavaka is a powerful profession. An industrial system based on this is not permanent. It works for a while and then changes.

Rule Number 10:

It is an industry that operates under many other rules apart from the above nine rules. Businesses operating under this rule are also short-term businesses. These occupations are temporary or change over a period of time. Based on this rule, 95 percent of the pros will have gained experience. Only after that they will do business based on any one of the nine rules mentioned above. If the horoscope is in a good position, rules one to four will do business. If the benefactor wants to have a very good career yoga, doing the career mentioned in rule number one will lead a satisfied life. On the basis of the above ten rules, human beings will enjoy good and bad results in their work. If the career is based on 1, 2, 3 rules and other lords are strong, they will progress quickly. On the other hand, progress cannot be made if other vices are strong. They will look forward to them, but will not change their careers and live by accepting the profit and loss arising from them. Businesses working under clauses 4, 5, 6 will continue the business if there is progress, and if there is no progress, they will change the business. 7, 8, 9, 10, the businesses operating in the rules change within a short period of time and can cause profit to some and loss to some. Therefore, professions based on this principle should not be expected to provide a good foundation for life.
